Mr. Carson is to reach Peace River crossing in twenty days from Edmonton. He was fourteen days in packing down. Speaking of tax-paying obligations on Peace River Mr. Carson had 75 acres of crop last year and has 80 acres more ready for the coming spring. A. Beck, who is the most famous farmer, had 75 acres last year and will have 25 acres more this year.

—The last issue of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen's Magazine published at Indianapolis, Indiana, has been received at this office. It contains a very fine cut of the first engine and train to cross the Saskatchewan river, i.e. the Canadian Northern Railway, E. Y. & P. division. Underneath the cut is printed "Train leaving Edmonton burning native coal." In a side column appear several verses written by a local railway employee enthusiastically descriptive of the natural resources of the Edmonton district.

—There has been considerable talk the last day or two about postponing the series of matches between Edmonton and Strathcona for the Alberta challenge cup, on account of sickness in the Edmonton team. H. Greenwood is at present in the hospital with an attack of quinsy, and a couple other players are severely under the weather from la grippe. However, it has been finally decided to play, and either W. Inglis or I. Robertson will take Greenwood's place. Colquhoun will be able to play for Strathcona according to the resident clause in the cup rules. The Edmonton hockey team propose giving their share of the gate receipts for the benefit of the hospital. The game will take place to-night at 8:15 o'clock.

THE PLAY.
The Harold Nelson company presented "Don Caesar de Baza" to a crowded house last night. The change to comedy from the heavy tragedy of the night before was severe and startling, but the verdict was the same—that the parts were well taken and full justice was done the clever work of the playwright. It is just possible that those who had not seen Mr. Nelson as Don Caesar, enjoyed his Don Caesar better than those who had. The two characters are so opposite to each other that it is something of a shock to find the one man taking both parts—and taking them both so well. Although it is all play, still an idea is formed in the mind of the on-looker of the man from his acting in a certain character and this involuntary remains, even when the character is changed—at least with those who are used to play going. So that a change to a diametrically opposite character produces a certain shock, and the better the acting in that character the greater the shock. It would be tedious to mention all the members of the company, and unfair to specially mention some when all did so well. Mr. Yule's specialties were as talented in their way as anything the company had to offer.

To-night this play is "The Merchant of Venice."

DEATH OF A PIONEER

The death of Mrs. George McDougall, widow of the late Rev. George McDougall, which took place at Morley on Monday evening, March 9th, removed one who had had a marvelous share in the work of bringing the region of the great Saskatchewan under the influence of Christianity and civilization. There were no such prominent figures amongst the scouts and pioneers of civilization in this region thirty-five years ago as Mr. and Mrs. McDougall. The seeds which these devoted missionaries sowed there is in full fruit today; and although it was not given to the one to see the results of his labors it was something that the other should be so spared. Too often the missionary is practically an exile who in his devotion to his charge cuts himself off from the great outer world. Not so the Rev. George McDougall. While bringing the Indians of the Saskatchewan under the better influences of Christianity with a success that has never been surpassed, if ever equalled, he stood as a beacon light, encouraging the sweep of civilization westward, believing above all things that it is the duty of civilized man to replenish the earth and subdue it. This is not the time or place to recount the events of his short but most active and successful life. Suffice it to say, that in a very few years he planted the banner of Christianity and civilization amongst the Indians from mouth to mouth of the Saskatchewan so securely that it has never been displaced. So securely that during the Red rebellion of 1885, ten years after his death, the Indians of the McDougall Methodist missions, on the Saskatchewan, remained unwaveringly loyal to Canada. He acquired an influence over the Indians of the plains as no other man ever did and at the same time, had the strongest possible influence amongst the whites. He established the Methodist missions at Victoria and Edmonton at a time and on a scale that are yet a wonder to the present settlers. And having placed the Edmonton mission on a solid foundation he moved on to the more turbulent country of the Bow River where not white man, not even the Hudson's Bay Company, had yet been able to live at peace. He established the present mission of Morley amongst the Stony Indians, and his influence spread from there amongst the Blackfeet. Up to that time the Blackfeet had been regarded as an entirely intractable people; and their natural disposition had not been improved by the presence amongst them of whiskey traders from Montana. The Canadian government decided to assume control of the country and enforce law and preserve order, but the mounted police, in order that their motives might not be misunderstood by the natives, McDougall was sent as an ambassador of the Canadian government to both Blackfoot and whiskey traders. His mission was performed so successfully that a force of mounted police so small in numbers as to be absolutely ineffective as a fighting force, quickly took full possession of a region whose inhabitants both red and white held the record for treachery and murder. Rev. Mr. McDougall died under most tragic circumstances in the winter of 1875, but his work remained. The peaceful civilization of the Canadian West is his monument, as it was the object of his hopes and efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougall were originally from Owen Sound, Ontario. They first engaged in missionary work at Sault Ste Marie, then at Norway house, at Victoria, at Edmonton and at Morley. As soon as the mission was well established at one point they moved on to another.

Rev. John McDougall, superintendent of Methodist Indian missions, D. McDougall, of Morley, Mrs. Hardisty, widow of the late Senator Hardisty, row of Toronto, Mrs. Harrison S. Young, of Edmonton, and Mrs. W. L. Wood, of Athabasca Landing, are the surviving children of the deceased.

Winnipeg Markets

Commercial, March 10th.
Manitoba wheat has been very dull all week, and with the break in prices on Thursday there has been manifested more disposition to take hold of business. At the prices reached yesterday a decline of 1c is shown from the prices of a week ago, which compares with 13-4c decline in American markets. We quote values up to close of business yesterday at 73 1-4c 1 hard, 71 1-4c 1 northern, 69 3-4c 2 northern, and 67c 3 northern, spot or delivery first half March, and for May delivery 1 hard 75 1-4c, 1 northern 73 1-4c, 2 northern 71 3-4c, 3 northern 69 3-4c; barrels at those prices, all in store Fort William, Fort Arthur or Da'uth.

Oats—The oat market firmed up early this week on better demand and continued slow receipts. The large quantities of oats known to be in the country do not seem to have much bearing upon prices, owing probably to the fact that most of them are not a real factor because of inability to get them to market. The market is today about 1c higher than a week ago. No. 1 white in car lots on truck are worth 30c; per bushel; No. 2 white 28c and feed grades, 25c. Farmers' loads on the street are bringing 28c, and at country points about 25c. Brokers are asking 25c to 27c for car lots in the country. There is nothing doing yet in seed oats.

Barley—The market is firm and the movement light. Dealers are paying 31c to 32c per bushel for feed grades on the street here.

C. P. R. EXTENSION

List of extensions built by the C. P. R. during the season of 1902 in Manitoba and eastern Assiniboa is summarized as follows: Waskada to Lyleton, 30 miles ironed; Snowflake to Mowbray, 10 miles ironed; Selkirk to Winnipeg Beach 22 miles ironed. Wellwood to Brookdale, 10 miles ironed; Forrest extension, 25 1-2 miles ironed; Tortkott extension, 30 miles ironed and 8 graded; Kyla branch, 42 miles ironed and 62 graded; total, 161 1-2 miles of new road ironed and 73 graded.

CURLING

At the rink last night, Stovel defeated Morris for the Hardy cup by a score of 8 to 6. Bryan defeated McGeorge for the Blue Ribbon cup by a score of 11 to 6. Bellamy and Stewart were to play but they decided to postpone the game until this afternoon. The following draws are reported: McDonald vs. McGeorge, for the Hudson Bay cup.

Political Situation at the Coast

Vancouver, B. C. March 7.—It is understood that a caucus of government supporters will meet in Victoria to-day for the purpose of considering the present political situation. It is believed that Mr. Martin is preparing to attempt to regain the post of dictator to the government, a state of affairs which Premier Prior is believed to be prepared to resist in the strongest manner possible. If the colonel followed his own inclinations he would at once appeal to the country. It is, however, regarded as inadvisable that the general elections should be brought on just now. With a dissolution the redistribution act of last session comes into force, and months would elapse before the voters' list, covering the new divisions, could be prepared. Then, the estimates will shortly be required, and these could not be prepared were a dissolution granted and elections in progress.

Probably a sufficient number of members could be found to favor some kind of cabinet government, which would carry on the necessary business during the coming session, and thus avoid a general election just now. If such an arrangement was decided upon, Col. Prior would probably have to step down from office. Who his successor would be is an interesting point in dispute. One of Col. Prior's supporters the other day indicated that if an appeal was taken to the people, it would be on a platform embodying the recommendations of the Provincial Mining association.

The excavation is taking place for an addition to the new Queen's hotel. W. J. McNamara is having a 30x32 cottage erected on Pearce st., west, which will add greatly to the appearance of that locality. Henry Nelson is the contractor.

W. H. Eggleston, of the firm of Parrie & Eggleston, horse dealers, left on Monday's train for Montana, where he has purchased several hundred good work horses. He will return in about three weeks with a good bunch.

H. O. Shoening and family arrived last Saturday from Traylor, Iowa, and have moved onto the property five miles northeast of town which he bought here, fall from Frank Mokota. The residents of the New Salem school district held a meeting on the 14th ult. to discuss public questions. We are in receipt of a strong resolution which was unanimously passed favoring the government ownership of railways, but, owing to lack of space, we are unable to publish it this week.

In this part of the country auction sales have certainly been the order of the day lately. On Wednesday, the 4th inst., an auction sale was held by Messrs. J. West and W. Sickelstedt. Cattle were sold at prices all the way from thirty-five to forty-five dollars, and other effects in proportion. The following day a sale was held by Mr. Finkhanel, at which a cow and calf were sold for sixty-five dollars. Cattle will realize almost any price here.

The pleasant evenings of the last month have certainly been taken advantage of, and dancing parties have been of frequent occurrence. On Friday, the 6th inst., a party was held at the residence of Mr. J. West, as a farewell to this gentleman and his family. Mr. J. West and Mr. W. Sickelstedt, who are leaving us to start a store in Millet, will be greatly missed by their many friends. May success attend their new venture in the thriving village of Millet.

Great quantities of lumber are being hauled back by new settlers, who evidently do not intend to have log buildings. The lumber trade must be flourishing in Wetaskin as it is rare to have a day pass during which three, four, five or six loads of lumber do not pass in a file, all going further east.

An enjoyable gathering was held by Mr. and Mrs. Mallett, on Thursday evening, the 5th inst., at their home. A large number of their friends were present, who certainly appreciated the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Mallett are delightful entertainers. Their departure will certainly leave a blank. They intend to move to Wetaskin about the first of April, to reside there. In spite of the decidedly Marchy beginning of the month it is turning out beautifully bright and sunny, to the sorrow of some people who would like to see a little more snow in order to improve the roads.

A CALGARY VIEW

Calgary Herald, March 9.—The Herald has received several complaints from within and without the city regarding the composition of the hockey team from Calgary which recently visited Edmonton. It is charged that a well known hockey player who is not and never was a resident of Calgary, but whose name is well known throughout Canada was "rung in" or attempted to be "rung in" as a Calgary man.

The Herald is not in a position to say whether or not this charge is well founded. If it is not, the managers of the team in question should in justice to Calgary prove that there is no foundation for it. On the other hand, the charge is based on truth. It is decidedly in the interests of clean sports that it should be ventilated so as to prevent a recurrence of such objectionable tactics in the future.

If Calgary cannot succeed in sporting matter on her merits, she had better stand sport altogether. The good name and reputation of this city are worth a good deal more than any so-called sporting victory, worked by means of "objectionable tactics." In the Calgary team are being introduced, they have a substantial grievance, but if the story which has been freely circulated is correct it is gratifying to think that they lost the game and that those who tried to put up a job, must have got what was certainly coming to them from our friends in the north and not a whit less.

TECHNICAL STUBBING IN OLDS

A meeting of the Olds Conservative association took place in the sample rooms of the St. George's hotel, on Tuesday evening last. Mr. Code was elected president, G. H. Crocker, vice-president, P. Shankleton, secretary, and R. Hainstock, treasurer. Wm. Dean G.S. Herdman, H. A. Wolf, W. J. Brumpton and W. Craig were appointed as an advisory board to act with the executive. The membership fee was fixed at one dollar per annum. Mr. Code was chosen to represent Olds at the Conservative convention which meets at Moose Jaw, on the 25th inst. Dr. Kay was chosen as a substitute in the event of Mr. Code not being able to go. The following resolutions were enthusiastically adopted, after which the meeting adjourned: 1. "That this association strongly disapproves of the government offering an inducement to Chinese, Japanese, Galatians, Doukhobors, or any fore-owners of that class who migrate to this country and that where inducement is offered by the government to incoming settlers that it be extended to people from the British Isles, United States, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Norway, and other countries where the people are law abiding." 2. "That we are strongly in favor of Canada paying her proportionate share towards the maintenance of the Imperial navy, and we favor preferential in the British market, and a free and untrammelled trade between the Mother Country and all the British colonies."

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

Great interest has been shown in the announcement from Halifax that a provisional agreement has been made under which the Halifax Banking Company is to be amalgamated with the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The latter bank has at present a paid-up capital of $8,900,000 with a reserve of $2,500,000, but a week or two ago a special general meeting of the shareholders was called for 14th April next to pass a by-law increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. Its head office is in Toronto, and it has now 84 branches throughout Canada and the United States, stretching from Sydney, Cape Breton, in the extreme east, to Victoria in the west, and from Dawson in the north to San Francisco in the south. It is represented at all the principal business centres in Canada, west of Montreal, and has its own offices in New York, Portland (Oregon), Seattle, and London, England.

Until the recent establishment of a branch at Sydney, the Canadian Bank of Commerce had no office in the Maritime province, but its stock, however, has always been a favorite investment with Nova Scotians, no less than $800,000 of its capital being held in their province. The purchase of the Halifax Banking Company will give it offices at fifteen additional points in Nova Scotia, including Halifax, Truro and Windsor, in fact, all the more important places. Two branches will also be obtained in New Brunswick, at St. John and Sackville.

The present directors of the Halifax Banking Company will continue to give their services in the capacity of a local advisory board at Halifax, the cashier will become local manager there, and the entire staff will be taken into the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. There is consequently no doubt but that the good-will of the institution is being taken over along with its tangible assets.

Originally established in 1825 as a private partnership, under the same name as at present, the Halifax Banking Company became incorporated in 1872. It has retained the friendship and support of many of the old Halifax firms whose predecessors did business with it in its earlier years, and in spite of the disadvantages under which in these days a comparatively small local bank must always labor, it has built up a sound and remunerative business. It has a paid-up capital of $8,900,000 with a reserve of $2,500,000. Its deposits are about $4,000,000, its total assets about $6,000,000, and with the added strength and prestige which its incorporation into the Canadian Bank of Commerce will necessarily give, a large increase in the present business may confidently be expected.

The terms under which the amalgamation will take place are said to be as follows:

After the necessary approval of the shareholders of the Halifax Banking Company has been obtained and all the requisite legal formalities have been completed, the Canadian Bank of Commerce will assume the liabilities of the Halifax Banking Company, and will give in exchange for the surplus of its assets over its liabilities stock of the Canadian Bank of Commerce of the par value of $700,000.

Doubtless some of the new stock which the Canadian Bank of Commerce is taking authority to issue will be used to carry out the terms of the agreement. Both banks are to be congratulated upon the arrangement which has been made, which must materially strengthen the position of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and add to the exceptional facilities which it already possesses for conducting a successful banking business. When the amalgamation has taken place, it will have a paid-up capital and reserve combined of nearly $12,000,000, and total assets of some $8,000,000, with 101 branches distributed throughout the length and breadth of Canada.
